

Civil Defense Test On Sunday, May 8 In Antioch Region

Evacuation of Cook County To Be Simulated in Test Here

Between the hours of 1 p. m. and 5 p. m. (DST) on Sunday, May 4, the residents of Antioch will be given a demonstration of what it may be like if a few bombs were dropped in the area.

The afternoon program is being set-up by John L. Horan, civil defense director in cooperation with the National program for May 6 and 7, at which time alert tests will take place from east coast to west coast and north and south.

Antioch's program will bring into the picture, eight fire companies and four rescue squads, and they will answer calls to various sections of the village, where bombs are supposed to be dropped.

Director Horan is asking cooperation of the public to be careful in its driving and where possible not to park cars on the street during the time of the demonstration. Another request is that children and pets be kept off the streets.

Civil Defense Director A. W. Haab of Skokie, Ill., and William R. Kearney, editor of the Skokie newspaper, conferred with Director Horan recently in making arrangements for evacuation of Cook County people into Antioch either on May 6 or 7.

The number of people who may arrive in Antioch will depend on the extent of the program toward a full test.

Antioch has been selected as one of the reception points in order to carry out all of the requirements as set up in the civil defense program affecting the evacuation of people from the areas hit by the raids.

Complete instructions will be received and announced by Director Horan next week.

The Band Parents Association is financing the trip and have made all the arrangements. They also have planned a dinner party for the band members and chaperones at a restaurant in Chenoa, Ill., on the trip home. The buses will return home Saturday night.

Change Time Sun.

Antioch like other points in Illinois and Wisconsin will go on daylight saving time Sunday.

The confusion over the time in Illinois and Wisconsin ended last year when Wisconsin revoked the law compelling its citizens to observe central standard time.

Officially the time changes at 2 a. m., but if citizens turn the hour hand of their clock ahead one hour when they retire, it will serve the purpose.

Don't Be late for church Sunday.

Army Air Corps Asks Bids on Major Portion Of New Bong Air Base

Estimate on Bids Probably
Will be in $15 Million
Cost Range

Construction on the major portion of the new Bong Air Base at Kansasville north of Antioch will start in June.

Bids on the main project are now sought by the U. S. Army Air Corps of Engineers.

Col. J. B. W. Corey, chief of the district engineers office in Chicago, estimated that the contracts "probably will run into the $15,000,000 range," and are for installation of the two-mile-long runways and taxiways as well as drainage and lighting facilities.

The bids will be opened in Chicago on June 5, and the successful bidder will be allowed 1,135 calendar days from the time of receipt of registered advance notice of the contract to complete the project.

It is expected that two weeks will be necessary for study of the bids by the engineering corps.

A contract for the drilling of a second large well for the base has been let by the Corps of Engineers to the Milwaukee Well and Pump Co., Milwaukee on its low bid of $31,415. The well will be located near the west junction of Rte. 43 and 75.

Bids were opened yesterday on the sale of 35 buildings on the site purchased by the government for the air base.

Temporary navigation aid equipment for O'Hare Field based planes now in storage at O'Hare Field near Chicago, will be installed at the former Heinen farm west of Phodes and Mt. Tom highway intersections where headquarters for the Air Force personnel has been established. The navigation aid equipment later will become a permanent part of the Bong base.

Two Win Honors at State Music Contest

Antioch Township High School students took two first place ratings at the state music contest in Peoria last weekend. They were Sonya Pickus, French horn, and Pennie Storch, piccolo.

Second place ratings were won by Sue Romer, clarinet, Kenneth Applebey, cornet and the clarinet quartet of Sue Romer, George Mantis, Oma Behlke and Barbara Paulsen.

Illness prevented Stephen Aschenbrenner from appearing in a flute solo and caused cancellation of the flute duet in which he and Nancy Wetterberg were to have played.

New Telephone Books Ready For Delivery in Antioch Next Week

New telephone directories for Antioch will be delivered next week. "Again this year," R. N. Hawkins, telephone manager here, said, "the cover is printed in full color. The colored covers, introduced last year, are so popular, they are being continued."

Artwork for the cover was done by the famous Chicago illustrator, Lucia.

On the back cover is a display of Illinois Bell's line of telephones in decorator colors.

"There are ruled lines labeled 'Fire' and 'Police' on the cover again this year," Hawkins said. "Each person is asked to check page one in the directory to find the fire and police numbers for his community and then copy them on the lines on the cover. This way, the numbers will be readily available if needed in a hurry."

Needless to say the number of patrons will be the greatest in the history of the Antioch and associated exchanges.

Conference B.B. Standing

| | Won | Lost | Pct. |

| Warren | 4 | 0 | 1.000 |
| Grayslake | 4 | 1 | .800 |
| Antioch | 3 | 2 | .600 |

| Wauconda | 1 | 3 | .250 |
| Round Lake | 1 | 3 | .250 |
| Grant | 0 | 4 | .000 |

By winning from Grant here 4 to 2 Friday and losing to Wauconda here Tuesday 5 to 4, Antioch continued in third place in Northwest Conference baseball play.

The game scheduled for the Wauconda diamond was changed to Antioch because of wet grounds.

Ability to hit with men on base gave Antioch the victory over Grant, and by the same lack of hitting ability with men on base cost Antioch the game with Wauconda.

It was the bottom of the batting order that came through with the hitting for Antioch in the Grant game, both Meyer and Jarvis tagging the ball for extra bases.

In the Wauconda game Antioch had the bases loaded twice, once with nobody out, and failed to score. Casten, the Wauconda pitcher, was good in the pinches. With the bases loaded he caused Stepin to pop to short, and then fanned LaBrose and Gudgeon. With the bases loaded again and two out he caused Zalatoris to ground to first base. Boy Scout Troop No. 92 To Conduct Paper Drive Troop 92 Boy Scouts will hold its monthly paper drive Saturday. The boys are asking that anyone having old books, magazines, papers or cardboard to give, place it in front of the house, tied if possible, by no later than 10 a. m.

These paper collections are made the last Saturday of each month to raise money to purchase badly needed camping equipment, and to cover the cost of operating the troop. Fathers of the Scouts are asked to participate in the drives.

The troop will hold the annual Order of the Arrow elections Tuesday night at the Scout House. The Order of the Arrow is an honorary camper's society.

John Delany, an active member of Troop 92's committee, recently has been made bicycling merit badge counselor.

According to a late Trendex news poll, American parents believe higher pay for teachers is more important than improved buildings and facilities.

Mary Grego, 10, of R.F.D. 2, Antioch, won the "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" coloring contest and as the result will receive six free passes to the Antioch Theatre.

Antioch High is coming back into the track picture rapidly this year after having almost disappeared from that branch of sport.

Although the Sequoias have found themselves in second place in the triangular meetings, the players have been giving a good account of themselves, and doing a remarkable job in view of the low cbb of the sport last year.

Antioch carried the burden of opposition against the strong Warren High School team in a triangular meet at Gurnee Monday night in which Warren scored 78 points to Antioch's 64, with Ela-Vernon scoring but three points.

Winners from Antioch were Marty Quilty in the mile (4:56.7), Chris Davis, in the discus (132 ft. 10 1/2 in.), and Dick Prange in the pole vault (8 ft. 6 in.).

Bob Walther's men picked up enough seconds and thirds to press the Blue Devils for the victory. A forecast of the future varsity was the victory of the Antioch frosh-soph portion of the meet, in which the Paposes scored 68 1/2 points to Warren's 46 1/2 and Ela-Vernon's 13.

Round Lake Won Here
The picture was much the same in the triangular meet of the varsity and frosh here last Thursday with Round Lake and Ela. Round Lake won on 75 3/5 points with Antioch second, 63.7 and Ela-Vernon third, with 52 points.

New $6,000 Radio Fire Alarm System Ready to be Installed

Installation of the Antioch fire department's new $6,000 radio alarm system will start next Tuesday, Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen announced yesterday.

The 25 Motorola receiving sets and transmitter are now at the Lake County Broadcasting station at Libertyville and will be installed by an expert from the county station.

The receiver sets— not enough for all of the members of the department — will be distributed on the basis of numbers of fires and department meetings attended, Chief Simonsen said. The rest will have to await additional purchases.

The transmitter will be set up at the Antioch Telephone Answering Service on Lake Street and the person in charge there will broadcast the alarm simultaneously to all receiving sets.

Simonsen said that the siren will be blown until all members of the department get their sets. The receivers were obtained because during the winter the siren cannot be heard well in all parts of the village.

The fire department is paying half the cost of the equipment and the village and the fire district will share the other half.

Meek Tells Merchants They Are Great Force In Fighting Sales Tax

The small-business men are the greatest force in preventing the increase of the sales tax now under consideration by the state, Joseph T. Meek, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Assn. told 48 members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and their guests at a dinner meeting Monday at Smart's Country House.

Meek urged a spirit of cooperative effort in small towns which he said is necessary to bring business in to the area.

"You small-business operators are the bigger force in the nation today, but watch out, chain stores are on the increase and there may come a day when you will be outnumbered," he said.

He advised the business men to be aware of the latest in modern merchandising and take advantage of it.

Parking is the big problem in business today, and all things considered, the community that provides the best parking gets the business.

President Meek deplored the fact that the small business man is made the tax collector for the state at his own expense. He urged Antioch business men to oppose any further increase in the sales tax.

Form Advisory Council To Study Financial Situation of H. School

First Meeting at H. School
At 8 p.m. Wednesday,
April 30

The Antioch High School Board of Education has inaugurated the organization of a Citizens Advisory Council to help the Board to study the financial situation related to the high school district.

The board has selected the members from the disbanded Citizens Fact Finding Committee Studying Community Unit Organization to serve as the nucleus for the Council. The group will be expanded to about 40 members.

To help the Council in its study of the financial situation confronting the district, the board has employed the Illinois School Consulting Service to serve as financial consultants.

The first meeting of the Citizens Advisory Council will be held at the high school at 8 p. m. Wednesday, April 30.

A financial problem has arisen since the voters failed to approve an educational tax increase several months ago. Increased costs with income increasing at a lesser rate is creating the danger of deficit spending.

Spur to Progress

A leading American oil company has announced that it is "discounting short-term business conditions" and will spend substantially more this year for crude oil exploration and production in this country and abroad than it spent in 1957. It also has increased its budget for domestic manufacturing, marketing and transportation facilities.

Many other oil companies have similarly ambitious plans. Despite the current decline in general business activity, the search for more oil will continue at a fast pace. And enormous sums of money will be spent for the purpose.

This is a risky business. Only one wildcat well in nine finds oil and the percentage which proves highly profitable is far smaller than that. Then, to make matters riskier still, the drillers must go deeper and deeper, at an ever-increasing cost. For instance, one dry well was recently abandoned at 20,000 feet—for a loss of about $1 million.

Here is the reason for oil's depletion allowance of 27 1/2 per cent. It is a credit against the federal income tax, and it applies to actual production only—not to refining, marketing, or other areas of the industry. It is designed to help offset the great hazards which are an implicit and unavoidable part of the search for oil, and to provide an incentive that will make men take the long chances. It also helps compensate for the fact that even the best of wells wear out and must be replaced.

Without the depletion allowance to provide a spur, there would be a real danger of oil shortages in the future. And that would be a catastrophe.

How to Discourage Employment

The current state of business should give pause to those who have been advocating extension of the federal wage-hour law to retailing and other service businesses which have been exempt ever since that law came into being back in the '30's.

Cogent reasons account for this long-established retail exemption. One is that all retailing is local—an outlet of the biggest national chain must still compete at the local level in its community, and adapt itself to extremely varied local needs, desires, and living and working standards.

Another is that retailing offers job opportunities for the young, the experienced, the marginal worker, and the part-time worker. The value of these people, measured by productivity, is small. But, by working in a retail store, they can obtain experience that will qualify them for responsible, better-paid positions both in and out of the retail trade.

Another is that arbitrary wage-hour rules, applying with equal force to the biggest cities and small towns, must inevitably be inequitable and disruptive.

To come back to the present, extension of the law to retailers would force them to pare their employment, and especially their marginal employment, to the limit. Then we would have more unemployment—and a further downward dip in the economy.

Drawing False Conclusions

One common excuse we hear for not getting polio shots is that "There's no reason to worry about polio any longer. Why, there were less than 6,000 cases in the whole United States last year." The person who says that is well-informed on statistics. But the conclusion he draws is dangerously incorrect.

Polio did drop off from 28,983 cases in 1955 to 15,400 in 1956, and then to 5,894 in 1957. But the principal reason for the encouraging drop in incidence was the fact that millions of Americans were taking advantage of the protection offered by the Salk vaccine. Most of the cases recorded last year were totally unnecessary, the result of failure to vaccinate.

It is difficult for some people to understand that they receive no protection whatever from their neighbor's vaccination. The protected neighbor may not get the paralytic disease, but he still is capable of passing the virus on to others. Lulled into a false sense of security, the unvaccinated may walk the streets with no more protection than those who fell victim to the disease during the terrible polio epidemics of the pre-Salk era.

Many parents who have been quick to insist upon vaccination for their children of school age fail to realize that these same children can still bring the disease into the homes, where it may find prime targets among infants and adults who have not had the Salk shots.

No one can tell how widely the virus will be distributed during the coming months. Certainly, you will not be able to detect its presence in your community. There is only one way to remove yourself and your children from the target area. Go to your doctor—or to your polio vaccination clinic—and start the three-shot series TODAY. Don't be among those unfortunate people who waited until it was too late.

Not All Crops Are "Political"

A good many people who have no personal connection with farming may think that the government supports and subsidizes all agricultural production. But that is not the case. Supports apply only to six so-called basic crops, which are frequently and accurately called the "political crops." And these six crops, as Karl D. Butler, a leading agricultural economist points out, make up only 24 per cent of the value of all crops.

He adds: "What most people forget is that some of the most important farm commodities are not price-supported by the government. For example, livestock and their products represent more than half of the gross income of farmers, yet the only commodity in this group that is price supported is butter."

Meat, in other words, moves in a free market, all the way from animals on the hoof to the favorite cuts you buy from your butcher. And the producers of meat—as spokesmen for livestock associations and others have said time and time again—want and mean to keep it that way. They have their troubles. They've known bust as well as boom. They've been plagued with drought. They've seen prices tumble to levels that brought them heavy losses. But they prefer to take their own chances and work out their own destinies without bureaucrats giving the orders and making the rules. And over the years they've done well.

So have consumers. The free market sees to it that we get the kinds and cuts of meat we want when we want them. And price is established by the natural law of supply and demand—not by fallible political judgment.

U. of I. Food Report

Chicago Retail Food Market
Week of April 21-26

CHICAGO—Orderly, dull food markets set up a "smorgasbord" selective situation this week for metropolitan area consumers.

The usual ups and downs by items are in the picture but lack extreme changes at wholesale to affect retail pricing averages. Hence, on balance, most major foods are steady at retail at sustained high levels, according to the weekly survey by the University of Illinois Consumer Service.

Here's a quick picture of the marketing scale as reflected from reporting sources, who participate regularly in the survey: beef—steady; pork—steady; lamb—steady; veal—steady; poultry—steady; fresh produce—steady; dairy products—steady; groceries—steady.

Cattle arrivals in heavy volume early last week tapered to a trickle causing prices to stabilize at week ago wholesale levels. The lower prices probably caused shippers to hold back again on long expected cattle arrivals. Of course, low feed costs, too, prompt producers to hold cattle for further fattening when prices begin to slide down. At any rate, there is 12 per cent more cattle on feedlots than a year ago. Since January only 2 per cent of this additional total cattle population has arrived at market—which is unusual. Market specialists say, however, the situation cannot last, and predict that resumed volume shipments will bring lower cost beef.

Eastern buyers moved into the pork market with heavy demands last week, taking better porkers out of Chicago. Loins surged upward in price but were offset by lower prices for other cuts.

Lamb prices, that were depressed, firmed on demand to rate a "steady" designation. Veal remained steady on insignificant action.

Poultry is generally steady as a classification, headed by fryers, although turkeys quote slightly higher. Eggs are unchanged but heading into higher cost levels. Fryers turn down in cost as volume replacement stocks arrive by mid-May.

Another general factor holding meat and poultry prices high is storage stocks—one-third less red meats than a year ago (and 45 per cent below average), and 18 per cent less frozen poultry than a year ago but still higher than average by 10 per cent.

Most produce holds steady with reported improvement in volume shipments and quality. Louisiana strawberries, delayed by weather, can be expected to begin reaching peak volume this week, as example.

Groceries are basically steady, vegetable shortening a bargain now but expected to increase in cost. Coffee as reported is off generally 2c per pound. Coupons and other price concessions have gotten breakfast cereals to near store-cost levels.

The U. of I. holds to its position that a "brink" of downturn food costs is almost upon us and that consumers will note seasonal improvement soon. Meanwhile, for the week ending April 26, it specifies these relative values:

Meats—Lamb leg and shoulder roasts, fryers, beef rib roasts and steaks, and most hams (except picnic); Dairy—large eggs, cream cheese, butter; frozen foods—peas, spinach, strawberries, grape juice; Groceries—shortening, coffee, tuna fish, pears; Produce—strawberries, apples, grapefruit, lettuce, green beans, cucumbers.

ILLINOIS TO MONITOR RADIO ACTIVITY

Illinois may become the first state to use an "airborne detection" program to guard its citizens against the devastating effects of a possible enemy nuclear attack.

Arthur E. Abney, director of the Illinois Department of Aeronautics, said steps are being taken to develop a statewide air monitoring system to control effects of radioactive fallout. The system would supplement organized ground civil defense units.

In the event of a nuclear bombing or a peacetime industrial accident involving nuclear radiation, pilots flying civilian planes equipped with special instruments would register the amount of fallout while flying over stricken areas.

Mr. Schorp is survived by his wife, Gertrude, one brother, Nicholas of Joliet, and one sister, Mrs. Josephine Ahlman of Chicago. He was preceded in death by two brothers, Michael and Joseph.

Services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at Strang's and then at 10:00 a.m. at Holy Name Church, Wilmet, Wis., with the Rev. Harold H. Herbst officiating. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery, River Grove, Ill.

Salem Central Wins First Three Games Of Baseball Season

The Salem Falcons seem to be as strong as ever this year as they wind up their play in the Braveland conference and assume a new berth next year in the Southeastern Conference.

Coach Bill Becker's men have won three games this season up to today when they tangle with Menomonee Falls.

They won their opener at Union Grove 10 to 2, Dave Erickson's double with the bases full, and Dave Ellis' two-run homer were enough to claim the game for the Falcons.

Waterford was the second victim by a 7 to 5 score. The Falcons were trailing 5 to 1 when they suddenly let loose with a barrage of hits, including a home run and a single by Ronnie Yates as the team batted around in chalking up six scores.

Yates stole home for Central's first score, then started the sixth inning with his homer. Dave Ellis doubled with two on base, scoring one and making the score 5-3. Westman singled with the bases loaded to tie it at 5-5. Then the bases were reloaded and Yates cracked out his single for the final two runs. The Falcons played errorless ball for their second straight game.

Defeat Wilmet 8-0

The Falcons made it three straight Friday when they shut out Wilmet 8 to 0 at Fox River Park diamond. Lefty Nelson during his five-innings of play fanned 11 and walked none. Wilmet's only hit was a single to center by sophomore Frank Platts in the third inning. On the other hand Central pounded the Wilmet pitchers for 14 hits.

While the Falcons take on the league champion Menomonee Falls team today, the Wilmet team will host Burlington of the Southern Lakes conference at Fox River Park.

Methodists Welcome New Pastor, Family

The Rev. Wallace Anderson and his family were welcomed to Antioch by the Methodist congregation Sunday evening with an old fashioned donation party.

Charles Watson served as master of ceremonies in the presentation of a musical program. Soloists were Mrs. Audrey Van Slochteren, Fred Yates, and Clarence Olson, who were accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Romoser. Mrs. Romoser also played a piano solo.

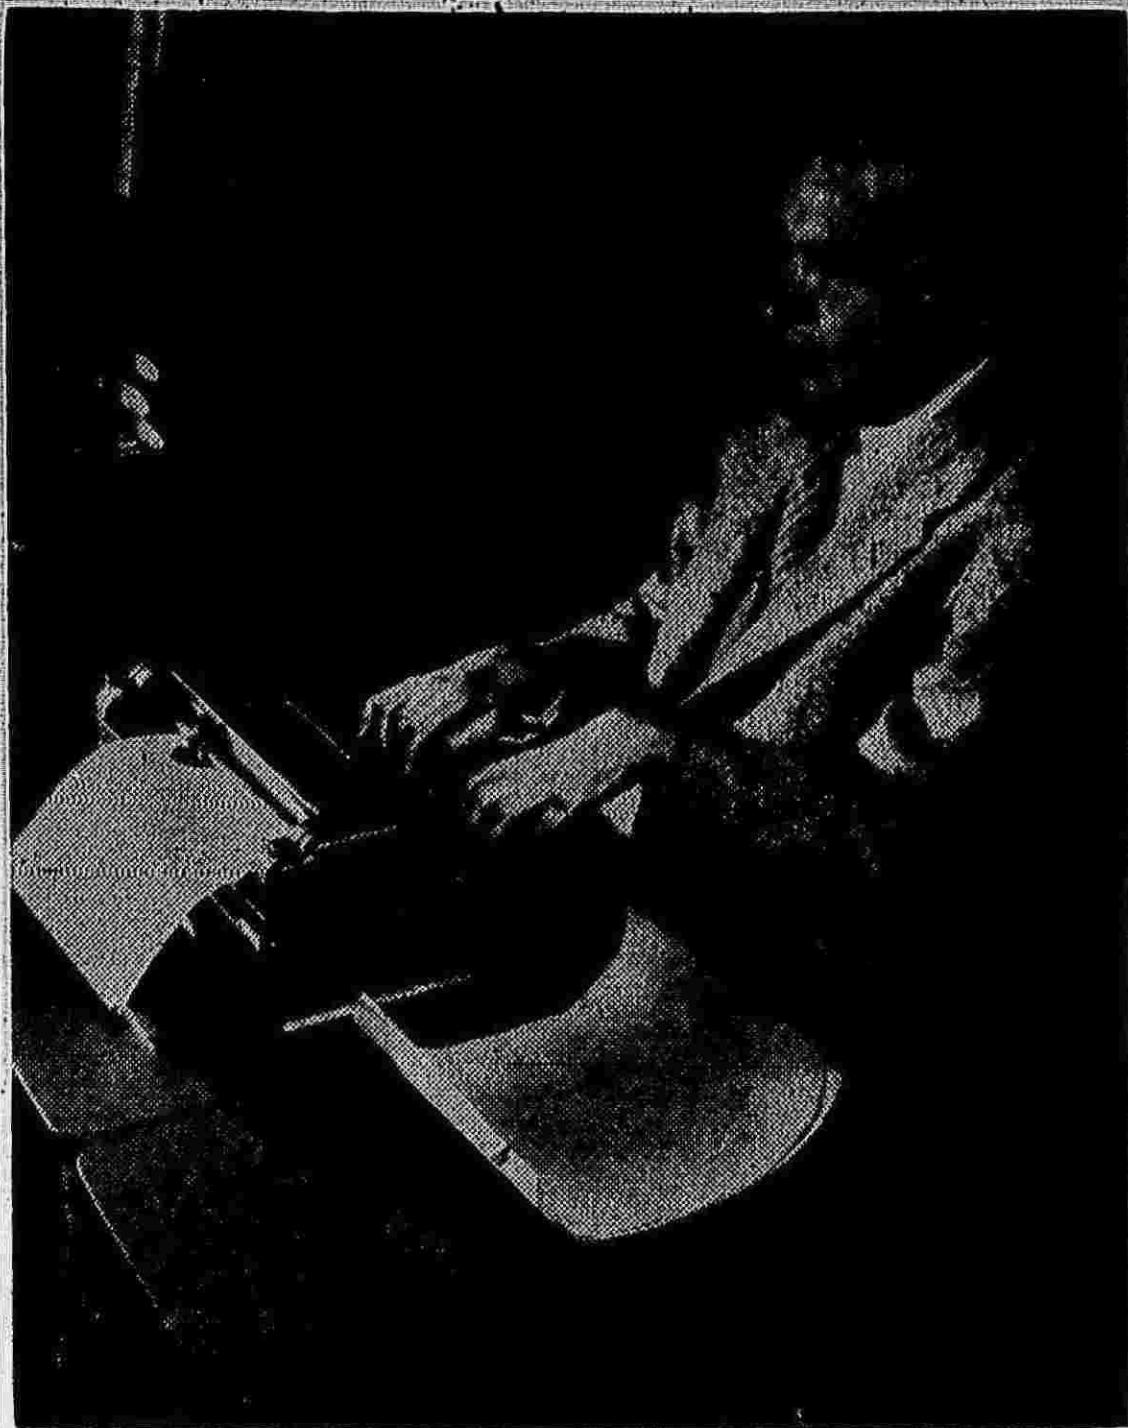

There was a large attendance.

To Serve on Fair Committee

Although he is now retired, Louis A. Baffetti, Lake Shangri-la, formerly of Chicago, has again been appointed by Governor William G. Stratton to be on the committee of Boccie Ball at the annual state fair, and plans to serve.

Baffetti had a heart attack last October, and recently retired under pension. He served the main post office in Chicago 30 years.

Will Address Lions Club at Dinner Monday

Richard Kinney, blind and deaf since early youth and now instructor of English, American and English literature at the Hadley Correspondence School for the Blind at Winnetka, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Antioch Lions Club Monday evening at the 19th Hole.

The school he represents is an object of aid from the Lions Clubs of this area. It was started in 1920 by William A. Hadley, 60, who became blind after 40 years of high school teaching.

Tuition is free to blind students who use the Braille system in their reading and writing of their lessons by correspondence. They learn literature, Bible Study, English, history and civics, mathematics, languages, commercial and miscellaneous subjects. Some of the courses are on a college level.

The story of Richard Kinney's life is second only to that of Helen Keller.

County Civic League Invites Local Persons To Hear Sen. Arlington

The Lake County Civic League, a voluntary citizen's organization devoted to better government, announced today that its annual meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday, May 1. The Gas Hospitality House, 214 Madison st., downtown Waukegan, will be the meeting site.

State Senator W. Russell Arrington (R), Evanston will speak on "State Finance and Public Welfare." Senator Arrington, a Chicago attorney and a partner in the law firm of Arrington, Healy and Wilson on LaSalle st., is well known throughout Illinois for his leadership on pressing legislative issues. He has gained the reputation of being a friend of the taxpayers, especially for his work on improving Public Assistance.

Recently the Senator called the relief set-up unworkable and urged that the Illinois Public Aid Commission be abolished in testimony before the legislative advisory committee to the IPTC. He charged that the IPAC has shown a "callous unconcern when inefficiencies are detailed."

Arrington suggested that relief responsibility be placed in a code department of the state under a director appointed by the Governor. Such a bill was passed by the Senate in the last session but was tabled by the House. Twelve of the 14 recommendations made by a legislative committee to tighten control of relief administration, giving the taxpayer more for his tax dollar, were opposed by the IPAC, and the General Assembly failed to pass these constructive measures.

Not only has Arrington almost single handedly championed public assistance control but he has an outstanding record of being the spokesman on the state fiscal reform, judicial amendment, and the assessment bills passed by the General Assembly in the last session.

"The League's annual meeting is open to all citizens interested in good government," stated Bruce Trester, executive secretary. "We invite you to hear a message that will point out the need for citizen concern and action with their governments."

Homemakers Plan Trip To Flowerwood House

The Antioch Homemakers held their meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. William Frey with Mrs. Erna Fridell and Mrs. Ruth Worswick as the co-hostesses. Nineteen members partook of a delicious luncheon.

Arrangements were made for a trip to Flowerwood at Crystal Lake with luncheon at Simonini's at Algonquin next Wednesday.

Several members were welcomed back after their winter vacation. Mrs. Robert Hess and Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart have returned from Florida, and Mrs. C. F. Spiering returned from a two-and-a-half month sight seeing tour of Central and Southern Africa with Mr. Spiering.

A committee of the organization met today at the home of Mrs. Spiering and made cancer pads. Mrs. Spiering was made social chairman and she has as her committee Mrs. Worswick, Mrs. Margaret Weiss, and Mrs. Sophia Hennings.

Attend Professional Meetings
Recent professional meetings attended by the Antioch Township High School faculty members include Miss Mary Donovan's trip to Milwaukee to attend the convention of the Midwest Physical Education Association.

Robert Walther and William Baird went to Fenwick High School in Oak Park last week to attend the football coaching clinic there and the week before they attended a similar meeting in Naperville.

Stuart Good and William Romoser spent last Saturday at Normal attending the Industrial Arts Round Table at Illinois State Normal University. Their wives made the trip with them.

No July 4th Celebration?
There will be no Fourth of July celebration in Antioch this year unless some group volunteers to sponsor it.

The Antioch Fire Department, sponsor and manager of the event the last two years, says it is too busy this year as host to the county firemen's convention and with its dance in June to take on the Independence Day Celebration.

Lakeside Girl Scouts To Hold Encampment At "Y" Camp Hastings

The Lakeside Council Girl Scouts will again hold its encampment at the Y.W.C.A. Camp Hastings, located 3 miles east of Rte. 21 on Loon Lake road.

Brownie Day Camp will be in session daily 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. from June 9 to June 13, while the Intermediate Scout encampment will be held from Sunday, June 22 to Saturday, June 28.

Counselors are urgently needed for both camps. Any woman who can give two days to a week of their time can be a counselor, as the main requirements are liking and getting along with girls. The Antioch Aqua Center Presents "Zimmer the Swimmer & Safety Sam"

PICK A SAFE, CLEAN PLACE TO SWIM

An important water safety rule, is that of choosing a safe, clean place in which to swim.

The old swimmin' hole, abandoned quarries, small streams, ponds, or rivers may look inviting, but they can be extremely dangerous. The water is of poor quality and pollution is not uncommon. Adding to this, the danger of stepping on broken glass and cans, as the picture indicates, should make you think twice before taking the chance. . . why take that chance? . . . Swimming with a companion under the constant observation of a lifeguard in bathing areas where conditions of water, depths, and bottom are known to be suitable for bathing should be your guide; and you must follow these water safety rules to be assured of your safety and that of the children in your party.

The Antioch pool offers excellent facilities in this respect. The pool and deck area is kept clean and free from contamination and the water is constantly filtered and purified in strict accordance with State Health Department specifications. Activities at the pool and deck area are constantly supervised by experienced Red Cross trained Life Guards. A sort of super baby sitting service is also included as parents can enjoy swimming in the pool while the young tots are supervised in the wading pool.

A season pass application is printed in this issue of the News for your convenience.

GRASS LK. PTA NEWS

Members and guests of Grass Lake PTA were rewarded with a fine program at the regular meeting last Monday evening. The nominating committee presented its slate, which was unanimously elected by the members present. The new officers are: Mrs. Wilbert Schaefer, president; Mrs. James Ferrier, vice-president; Mrs. Harold Gaston, secretary; and Mrs. Walter Johnson, treasurer. They will be installed next month.

Committee reports included one dealing with recreation equipment for the playground which is being purchased by the PTA. Mrs. Cecil Smith, teacher, is chairman of this committee. Mr. Wayne Barker, president of the school board, announced that the PTA now has full use of the school kitchen making the construction of an auxiliary kitchen unnecessary. He also explained that the forms sent home with the children relating to school bus accommodations were in lieu of possible bus service in the fall.

Convention reports were given by Mrs. Charlotte Queen and Mrs. Earl Beese who attended the I.C.P.T. convention in Springfield April 17, 18, and 19. They were enthusiastic about the information they obtained at the various conferences and made particular mention of a speech by Dr. George Z. F. Bereday, associate Professor of Comparative Education, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City. Dr. Bereday spoke on "Education for All" and stressed the values of our free educational system over those of European systems. He felt we should not be overly concerned about the mass production of Scientists in Russia. In line with Legislation, the delegates reported that the I.C.P.T. passed a resolution to recommend a 1 per cent state payroll tax to provide increased revenue for educational needs.

After the business meeting was over, Mrs. Wilbert Schaefer, program chairman, introduced Mr. Warren Polley, assistant principal of Antioch High school, guest speaker on "Physical Education in the High School." Mr. Polley explained the importance of continuing and expanding the physical education program. He introduced Miss Nary Donovan and Mr. Larry Leon, who spoke on the girls' and boys' programs respectively. Miss Donovan said that the emphasis in the girls' department was on large muscle development. She explained the health and cleanliness systems which are followed and also the safety aspects which are taught. Mr. Leon talked about grading for uniform cleanliness, team games available to the boys such as volleyball, soccer, speed ball, touch football, basketball and others. He and Miss Donovan both spoke of the co-recreational program for boys and girls and felt that this was a worthwhile project. It includes volleyball and dancing.

Parents asked questions after the speakers were through and discovered that there is need for increased facilities if this program is to remain available to future enlarged enrollments in the high school.

TAX FACTS

Since when did the word "temporary" come to mean "permanent"? That is the question 35 million Americans who are customers of the Bell Telephone System are asking each other regarding the war time emergency excise taxes on telephone bills. Additional millions, customers of other communication systems, are asking the same question. The war is over, but the excise taxes on telephone and telegraph services have acquired a suspiciously permanent look.

If these people, plus the millions of riders of "for hire" carriers, tell their Congressmen in their own words that they want the emergency excise taxes on these services repealed, there will be action. These taxes are unfair, because excise taxes in general are imposed mainly on so-called luxuries. Communications service is not a luxury but an absolute necessity in the present-day business and personal lives of all Americans.

The total tax bill paid by Illinois Bell Telephone System in 1957, including the federal excise tax, was $137,838,151, or a monthly average of $332 per telephone (95c per telephone being for Federal excise taxes). The 1957 excise tax alone paid by Illinois Bell, and collected from their customers, amounted to $39½ million.

The point to remember is that all of the taxes paid by Illinois Bell are collected directly or indirectly from telephone customers. On the average, taxes took more than 28c of every dollar that Illinois Bell collected from their customers in 1957. The excise tax as part of the 28c taken from every dollar is discriminatory and should be ended.

If Congress wants to consider a tax reduction as a means of increasing consumer spending, the elimination of excise taxes would put sizeable amounts of spendable money into the pockets of all American families. Then those deeply affected by such taxes—telephone and telegraph companies, the "for hire" carriers, and last but not least, the customers—would be relieved of a serious drag on our economy.

Congress should be further encouraged to do something about these taxes now. Congressmen are listening, reading, and doing something about the mail they receive from back home. Let them have your views. Your 3c investment in a postage stamp may pay off worth-while dividends.

Antioch Firemen Make Final Plans for County Convention Here May 24 and Dance, June 28

Antioch firemen made final plans for the annual Lake County Firemen's convention here on May 24 at their meeting Tuesday evening.

They plan to be the perfect host to 25 companies who will bring their fire fighting equipment for a big parade after which they will take part in the hose laying contests and water battles.

The parade route will be from the Broadway public parking lot south to Lake street, west on Lake to Rte. 173, east on Rte. 173 to Main street, north on Main street to North avenue, west to Highland, south on Highland to First street, east on First to Main, south on Main to Orchard, west on Orchard to Broadway, and then to the parking lot.

Broadway will be closed for the various contests and the fire station and rescue squad station will be the gathering place for the visiting firemen who will start registering at 10 a. m.

The contests are for the entertainment of the public and will be mainly time records for hose laying.

The firemen also set the date and made plans for their annual dance which will be held June 28.

King Jaros and his band have been asked to return and stage a performance equal to the popular one of last year. Again there will be street dancing as well as indoor dancing at the fire station.

In other business the firemen voted to recommend to the Village Board that Edgar Simonsen be appointed fire chief for another year. Chief Simonsen will start this eighth year as head of the department.

Camp Lake Resident Charged With Assault On Albert J. Hatley

Lee (Doc) Merriman, 57, of Camp Lake, was scheduled to appear in the court of County Judge Harold M. Bode in Kenosha, Wis., today to answer to a charge of aggravated assault, which in Wisconsin is a felony.

Merriman was arrested by Deputies Ernest Oberhoffer and Alfred Oetting Saturday after Abner J. Hatley, 32, Camp Lake Gardens reported he had been stabbed in the side with a pocket knife while they were at Griebel's store at Camp Lake Saturday.

Chief Investigator William F. Schmitt said that Hatley's story indicated a history of "bad blood" between the two men.

Hatley refused medical attention.

Rain Was Badly Needed

Light rain most of yesterday with a thunder storm and showers last night helped make up the deficit in precipitation in Antioch. The rain was needed for oats and pastures and to condition the ground for corn planting next month. Much corn ground has been prepared.

For quick results, place a want ad by calling 43 or 44.

They Discuss Styles

"I'm thinking," Molly began, thumbing through a fashion magazine, "of getting one of the new sack dresses."

George Harrumphed, "You're not thinking," he rejoined, "I mean, you're just going along with the style—if it can be called that. To me, they're said sacks!"

"Now, just because you men are so conservative—you never change the style of your suits. They always look just the same..."

"And that suits me just fine," the Mr. rejoined. "But how dull, my dear. Maybe some day the men's fashion designers will get real bold..."

"Well, this year we've got three button suits, instead of two—the Ivy League look. That's something new, isn't it? And we're wearing single breasted instead of double breasted—and narrow lapels with notches, instead of the other kind."

Molly laughed. "Why, George, you're getting real style conscious."

ECONOMY TV TOPICS

(By Harold "Pete" Peterson)

TV SHOPPING

Here is something that might very well be in the future. You're sitting at home before a closed circuit TV set; you pick-up an attached telephone to the side of the set and dial a particular store. Maybe you want a new evening dress. So, you watch your screen as a score of models display evening dresses. You order your choice by the same attached phone.

The time for this innovation isn't so far in the future that the ECONOMY TV on Rte. 173, 1 1/2 miles west of Antioch wouldn't be around anymore. We'll have our phone number (Antioch 1454) listed on this TV Shopper, too, and you'll get a direct hook-up to our shop. Meanwhile, use your old fashioned phone to reach us as your neighbor does.
